

Noncustodial Parent Form

Commonwealth of Massachusetts | Executive Office of Health and Human Services

Instructions

You're getting this form because you recently applied for a state health plan such as MassHealth. On that application, you listed one or more children in your household with only one custodial parent. This indicates that the child(ren) may have a noncustodial parent. A noncustodial parent is a parent who does not live with their child.

This form must be filled out and signed by the custodial parent or legal guardian of any child listed on the application for health care coverage. You must provide the requested information for each child who has a noncustodial parent.

To get MassHealth, you agree to cooperate with MassHealth and the Child Support Enforcement Division of the Massachusetts Department of Revenue (DOR) in trying to get medical support for your children from their noncustodial parents unless you have a good cause reason not to cooperate. You can review the list of good cause reasons under the "Children Listed on the Application" section of this form. Cooperating means, but is not limited to

- Telling the DOR if there are any changes to the information you gave us about yourself or the other parent.
- Appearing as a witness at court or other proceeding.
- Appearing at paternity testing appointments and other appointments if necessary.
- Providing DOR with copies of documents that are needed for your case, if requested, such as birth or marriage certificates, court orders, and divorce orders.
- Taking any other reasonable steps to identify the father, to get medical support and payments, and to help us go after liable third parties.

Your eligibility could be affected if you do not fill out this form in its entirety and do not meet the exceptions described below.

Please fax or mail this form to:

Health Insurance Processing Center
PO Box 4405
Taunton, MA 02780
Fax: (857) 323-8300

Important

MassHealth will not deny or stop your child's MassHealth benefits if you do not cooperate, but your own eligibility may be impacted. Even if you are not required to identify the father (establish paternity), knowing who the father is may lead to financial benefits for your child. These benefits may include Social Security dependents' benefits, pension benefits, veterans benefits, and possible rights of inheritance.

If you are not eligible for MassHealth, you can still get child support enforcement services. These services can help to get the noncustodial parent to provide medical support or child support for the child. To do this, call the Department of Revenue (DOR) at (800) 332-2733, or go to www.mass.gov/dor and click on Child Support Services to complete the application on line. The child's MassHealth benefits will not change, whether or not you ask for these services. If you ask for these services, you will have to cooperate with DOR.

Noncustodial Parent Information

Please provide the following information on the application for each child who has a noncustodial parent, including unborn or expected children. We have provided space for three children and three noncustodial parents. If you need more room, please make a copy of this form or use a separate piece of paper.

Unborn or Expected Children

Are you currently pregnant? If you are applying for benefits for an unborn child, you do not need to give us information about the noncustodial parent of the unborn child at this time.

I am currently pregnant AND I am not married to the father of this child.

How many babies are you expecting? _____ What is your expected due date? _____

Note: You do not have to provide information for this child's noncustodial parent while you are pregnant. If the noncustodial parent is not in the household at the end of your pregnancy, you will need to tell MassHealth about the noncustodial parent at that time.
